

fringed-micelle model

in polymer crystals

A model of crystallinity in which the crystallized segments of a macromolecule belong predominantly to different crystals.

Source:

Purple Book, p. 84