

helix residue

in a polymer

The smallest set of one or more successive configurational base units that generates the whole chain through helical symmetry.

Source:

Purple Book, p. 79