

spreading function

in chromatography

The normalized signal produced, as a function of elution volume at the outlet of a size-exclusion chromatography set-up, by an instantaneous injection of a uniform sample.

Source:

Purple Book, p. 69