

transition interval

in titrimetric analysis

The range of concentration over which the eye is able to perceive change in hue, colour intensity, fluorescence or other property of a visual indicator arising from the varying ratio of the two relevant forms of the indicator.

Source:

Orange Book, p. 48